Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

We reluctantly bid farewell to about 100 subscribers this week. They have neglected to pay attention to their notices of expired subscription. If any neighbor tells YOU, "I did not get my GCW this week. Lend me yours," tell the neighbor, "I expect you have been cut off."

A paper that is not worth paying for is not worth having. We realize, of course, that many non-payers merely neglected to come around, fully intending to do so. But, for fear that some may say, as we have heard others say about other newspapers, "I do not want it. He keeps sending it to me," we are whacking off to the line, and with no offense to anyone. We hope everyone who has been cut off will come back.

Great Britain has about accomplished one of its major purposes, that of getting two fronts in the war. Watch events closely from now on. Do not sell England short.

Grandpaw Jack Sanderson can be excused now if he gives a fellow ten dollars for a one-dollar check.

The stork picked up a little in his deliveries this week. That's one bird who never strikes.

At this moment, Wednesday night, we do not have enough job work to keep Horn and Greenfield busy this week-end. Help us correct that.

Dear Charlie Umbright: your aunt Mary is desperately ill in the hospital here.

dear mr peat la groan. i gess yore ole fren mr red bris cow has giv outta ammunition fer he didn rite nuthin this week.

Congressman Ford was in Grenada Wednesday but failed to honor the Roach Den with his presence.

Miss Nancy Nelson Granberry was here Wednesday for a brief visit with home folks. She, as president of the Student Body of M. S. C. W. was en route to New Orleans to attend a meeting of importance as a representative of her college.

The Boy Scout work is a worthy work. The work so helps bend the twig that the tree, when mature, bends in the right direction. Give generously in the Scout Drive next Tuesday.

I. E. Solar, who improves upon further acquaintance, one of our subscribers, blew in from New York this week for ten days stay here.

Congratulations to Bobbie Weir upon winning fourth place in the state oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion.

According to a tale we heard, one of the little Garner boys said, "God picked out the Jews to be His chosen people, and grandmaw picked out the Shermans to be her chosen people."

Our overseer, Mr. Terrell, got thru with his oversea business before noon Monday.

A soldier who threw down his gun, as the strikers are throwing down their tools, would be shot.

America is getting damned tired of strikers breaking the continuity of production in essential war material. It is a long lane that has no turn.

Mrs. Blanche Mattingly, Matron at the University passed through Grenada on the bus Thursday enroute to Baton Rouge to visit with her nephew, Lt. Jack Martin.

Cap Oliver had his grandchildren from Greenwood over with him and wife Sunday.

There is an old saying among squirrel hunters that it is hard to hold and skin at the same time. England certainly has done a good job of holding and skinning—holding Germany and skinning Italy.

Since the 28th of March, we have added 16 new subscribers. That would not be much for the New York Times or the Tupelo Journal, but it is not bad for a small country weekly.

William Winter Named Outstanding Freshman

William Winter, son of Senator and Mrs. W. A. Winter, of Grenada county, was named joint winner with Dennis Granberry as winner of the title, "Outstanding Freshman' at Ole Miss this year.

This selection was made by nine faculty members and nine student leaders.

William's friends and the friends of the Winter family are mighty proud of him.

Heads Of McCormick Clan Married 68 Years

Herewith is a picture of Mr. and Mrs. William H. McCormick, of the Kirkman community of Grenada county. They are the heads of the large clan of McCormicks of this county.

They were married 68 years ago, on January 16, 1873. Each of them is still active in spite of the burden of years. Mr. McCormick is a frequent visitor to Grenada. Mrs. McCormick looks after her household duties as she has done for nearly seventy years.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. McCORMICK

The McCormicks are indeed somewhat clannish as nearly all of the seven living children live within rifle shot of the home of the parents. Five of their twelve children are dead. Living are six sons, Robert H., Joseph H., J. Wallace, Ed. G., A Boyd and M. Quinn McCormick; one daughter, Mrs. H. L. Trussell; twenty-four grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

To this patriarch and to this matriarch of Kirkman, we extend best wishes for many more happy years.

"THE BRICK" BURNED

The brick building owned by the Majet sisters, and being located on First Street just across Kershaw from Grenada Hotel burned Monday night. The loss was complete and was only partially covered by insurance.

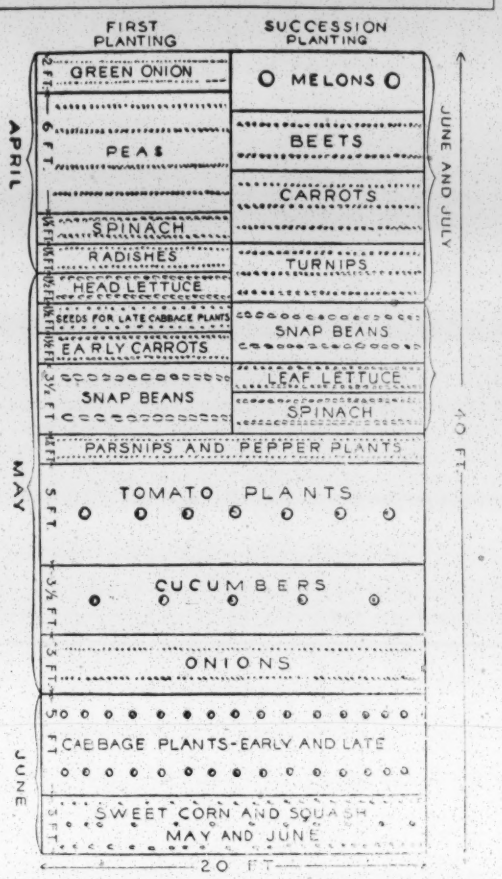
Mabel took in Mrs. Etta Dudley's subscription last week, but Mabel did not mention it in the paper. Here is the notice. Welcome.

BANKS BIGGEST BUSINESS

Last Saturday, April 5, was reported by the two Grenada banks as being the biggest day's business in the history of either, in the amount of checks handled.

Those cashing WPA checks, those cashing Soil Building checks, and those cashing the annual "draw" checks combined to make Saturday the greatest day in Grenada's banking history.

PLAN FOR A SMALL GARDEN



Here is a good layout for a small back-yard garden, suggested in the Ford Home Almanac. A plot so arranged will produce a surprising amount of vegetables.

According to the Ford Almanac, the family with a garden in the back yard, or on a very small plot, can largely overcome the handicap of limited size by planting companion and succession crops. In companion cropping, two crops occupy the soil at the same time—one a quickly maturing crop, the other a crop that requires longer time to develop and, when grown, more space. The earlier crop is harvested before the later crop matures. In succession cropping, one crop is harvested then the ground is again prepared and planted to a second crop. A letter to most any state agricultural college will bring a pamhlet telling in detail how this is done.

Of first importance is the use of good seed. Good seed can't be picked by its appearance. It's best to buy only from some thoroughly reliable house.

Seedling plants started in boxes or cold frames in cellar or basement should be transplanted when they are 1 to 2 inches high. At this size they transplant more readily, develop better roots and make stockier plants. Seedlings should be well watered 12 hours before being transplanted. Use care in keeping as much earth around the roots as possible and planting in freshly made holes.

Most home gardeners plant seed too thickly. Thinning to proper distances will hasten maturity, increase yields and insure higher quality. The best time to thin out seedlings is soon after they are up.

When watering, either with hose or other means, soak the soil thoroughly. During drought, watering in evenings is most beneficial.

Congress should without delay pass such legislation that will forbid the stoppage of work in essential war industries. If necessary, let the government commandeer the plans and draft the workmen. There is no justice in a handfull of dissatisfied workers—already drawing good pay—jeopardizing the safety of 130,000,000 people.

HONOR STUDENTS, G. H. S.

Miss Almeada Tilghman has been named Valedictorian of the 1941 Class at G. H. S. and Chas. Kenwright has been named Salutatorian. Congratulations.

The World At Easter

We are writing beside a small, picturesque stream in a beautiful valley of the Ouachita Mountains of Western Arkansas. Royally tinted and fragrantly scented violets carpet the earth, and in the distance brilliant patches of pastel colors silhouette gayly blossoming fruit trees against the somber green of the pine clad hills.

From the direction of Oklahoma, a warm, caressing breeze sweeps down through the valley. Overhead, white, fleecy, vagabond clouds drift nonchalantly across the sky ways. Once again all is vibrant with life—the bees, grasshoppers and waterbugs commenced their activities for the 1941 season. In a nearby tree a sprightly mockingbird entertains engagingly with a grand repertoire of melody—no lost chords, and no discords—as he pours forth his welcome anouncement that it is Spring in Arkansas.

Commenting upon the enchantment of the scene to Mrs. Allen, working a crossword puzle nearby, she remarked that the stream was infested with water moccasin; and that the valley was frequently the scene of devastating cyclones.

So with nature so with man. The cables and air waves are humming with fresh news of a human water moccasin (Hitler) directing a human cyclone (the mechanized German armies) across the frontiers and down the beautiful valleys of Yugoslovia and Greece, to attack two more independent nations in an unconscionable greed for conquest, power and plunder.

Nearly two thousand years ago, a very wise man visted Greece. He wrote and spoke in one of the very cities against which the German menace is directed today, Salonika. They are the first and second epistles to the Thessalonians; in the New Testament. And this evening one of St. Paul's most famous definitions came to mind, "For faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things unseen." In the face of events transpiring far beyond the horizons of this peaceful valley, what substance is there amidst the turmoil of this world upon which to base some rational faith in the immediate future?

Our past comments on world affairs may have impressed some readers as having been unduly sanguine and optimistic. We are well aware of the significance and seriousness of military and naval developments abroad; and we may possibly take a much more serious view of the spiritual, social and economic repercussions which will be the inescapable heritage of this war than do most observers. But at no time have we for an instant wavered in our confident belief in Old England's ultimate victory. And at no time have we been more confidently optimistic that at this moment, as the Balkans burst into flame.

Looking down through the ages, and viewing the history of civilization in perspective, there is evident a miraculous order and continuity in our progress which far transcends the more spectacular series of revolutions and eruptions which have dated our evolution to date. The Master Hand which created the surpassing grandeur of these fruit blossoms has not left mankind without pattern, or without a plan. The contending forces of good

Grenada County's First Fatal Casualty

HORACE J. TILGHMAN, JR. U.S.N.

Believed to be the first Grenada county young man to die in his country's service during the present emergency is Horace James Tilghman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tilghman, of Hardy.

Prominent Grenadian's Father Died In Tenn.

James Hamilton Graves, retired Collidersville, Tenn., farmer, whose father, T. J. Graves, ran the original survey of Fayette County, died at 8:55 last night at his home in Colliersville. He was 86.

He was born at Rossville, and lived there during the Civil War. His boyhood memories could recall the encampments of soldiers on his father's property when he was about eight or ten years old.

A few years after the war, the family moved to Kirk Community of Shelby County, and a large part of the family's new farm had to be hewn from virgin timber.

In 1888, Mr. Graves moved to Colliersville and with his farming combined an interest in city and civic affairs, holding a town office for many years. He retired about 25 years ago.

After his retirement, Mr. Graves principal interests were his home and his church, Colliersville Baptist. He was one of the two oldest living members of the church, and he formerly was on its board of deacons.

He had been in ill health six months, had been seriously ill more than a week with pneumonia. He leaves his daughter, Mrs. John Price, of Colliersville; his son, Hamilton Graves, Grenada, Miss.; two grandchildren, Albert Graves, of Grenada and Mrs. Hiram Weller, of Denver, Col.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. today at Colliersville, Baptist Church, with Rev. H. J. Rushing officiating. Burial was in Magnolia cemetery, with National Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were J. K. Swope, Ed Morton, Frank Waller, M. L. Wingo, C. F. Cooper, T. L. Treadwell.

Mrs. L. G. Roberts' Father Passes At Greenwood

The friends of Mrs. L. G. Roberts sympathize with her in the passing of her father, Mr. T. E. Morgan, age 83, at his home in Greenwood on Friday night, April 4th. Mr. Morgan had suffered several paraletic strokes within the last six years and was a patient and cheerful invalid, endearing himself to many, many friends. His grandson, Mr. Irvin Johnson and wife were at his bedside when death came. Mr and Mrs. Roberts and young Irvin Johnson, Jr., of Grenada, joined the family on Friday night. Burial was held Saturday afternoon at Greenwood cemetery.

The Stork Flew By And Left . . .

a little son, Donald Lloyd, for Mr. and Mrs. T. U. Hodge, of Grenada in their home in Grenada on April 5, 1941.

a little daughter, Sandora Rose, for Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Denley, at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. M. Anthony, in Futheyville, March 31, 1941.

a little daughter, not yet named, for Mr. and Mrs. Jack McRee, of Holcomb at Grenada Hospital on April 10, 1941.

a little daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Grady Worsham of Grenada at Grenada Hospital on April 7, 1941.

a little son, Robert Wilton, for Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kruger at their Hattiesburg home. Mrs. Kruger is the former Miss Mary Nichols, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nichols at The Plant.

Memorial Services Held For Horace J. Tilghman, Jr.

A memorial service for the late Horace James Tilghman, Jr., Fireman first class, U. S. Navy, was held aboard the U. S. S. VIXEN on April 2, 1941.

The crew was drawn up in formation on the quarterdeck of the Ship. The parents of the young man, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tilghman of this city were present with Rear Admiral Edwards, Commander Meadows, the Commanding Officer of the VIXEN and other Staff and Ship's Officers.

Chaplain R. W. Shrum, Chaplain, U. S. Navy conducted the Memorial Service. In directing his remarks to the group assembled to pay tribute to the memory of this brave young Bluejacket, who had given his life in the Service of his country, the Chaplain said in part:

"Horace James Tilghman, Jr. Fireman first class, United States Navy was born at Grenada, Mississippi on the 16th of September, 1919. His early education was received in the public schools of Grenada.

"He enlisted in the Navy at New Orleans, La., on the 12th of April, 1939. His period of preliminary training was received at the Naval Training Station in Norfolk, Va. He served aboard the Naval Transport, U. S. S. HENDERSON. He was transferred to the U. S. S. VIXEN, flagship of the Submarine Force, Atlantic Fleet and assisted in commissioning that Ship for active service. His service aboard was marked by diligence and faithfulness. He was loved and respected by the officers and men with whom he served. His life, noted for good sportsmanship, filial piety, clean living, faithful work and belief in God will be an inspiration to those of us who continue to carry on.

"Following an accident aboard the VIXEN on the 23rd of March in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Tilghman was removed to the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va. He passed away while a patient at the Hospital on the first day of April, 1941.

"His death in the line of duty is a noble sacrifice in behalf of his country. Jesus, Himself said: 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.'

"Dutiful Son, Loyal Shipmate, True Friend. Let us pray:

"Most merciful Father, who hast been pleased to take unto Thyself the soul of this Thy servant, our Shipmate James; grant to us who are still in our pilgrimage and who walk as yet by faith, that having served Thee with constancy on earth, we may be joined hereafter with Thy blessed saints in glory everlasting: through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tilghman of this county, having been informed of their son's serious condition, left Grenada Saturday night for his bedside and arrived there before his death, and later accompanied his body home. Burial was had Saturday, April 5th 1941, at Paul cemetery in Tallahatchie county, Rev. L. B. Roberts, pastor of Friendship church, was in charge of the ceremony. Beautiful flowers from his shipmates and from local friends, as well as the presence of a vast throng of people attested to the esteem which this young man—Grenada county's first fatal casualty in World War No. 2—was held.

Pallbearers were his first cousins: Roy Tilghman, James Tilghman, Joel Hill, Jimmie Hill, Frank Wolfe, Jr., J. R. Wolfe, J. B. Kenwright, and Norman Kenwright.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tilghman, three brothers, Ottis, O., Joe and C. M. Tilghman; and four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Inman and Misses Carolyn, Mary Adeline and Maude Ellen Tilghman.

To the sorrowful ones, we extend our sympathy.

Spring Luncheon for Club Women---Twentieth Century, Garden, Iris, Fortnightly, B. & P. W., MacDowell Musicale and Civic League.

The women's clubs of the city of Grenada, following a custom of several years standing entertained on Saturday at one o'clock when approximately one hundred and seventeen members and guests enjoyed a beautifully planned luncheon and program at the Community House.

The Twentieth Century Club sponsored the luncheon this year, and their gracious and charming President, Mrs. J. K. Avent, was hostess. Mrs. H. L. Ray was chairman of the decorating committee. She was assisted by several ladies appointed by clubs other than the Twentieth Century.

If the decoration committee tried to be original and do something different and unusual and exciting in their Easter motif for the luncheon tables, they achieved their purpose for they were wacky, smart and quite beautiful.

Mrs. H. L. Ray, chairman, and representing the Twentieth Century and the Civic League, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Jackson from the Garden Club, Mrs. Bryan Revell from the Iris Club, Mrs. E. E. Penn from the Music Club and Miss Lucy Webb Sharp from the Fortnightly had a good thing with a unique idea, which turned out to be more fun and created more comment, than a dozen fancy flower arrangements.

Can you imagine a more clever and charming effect than a low oval plant colored bowl with New Zealand flax leaves with egg plants scooped hollow or and form to supply the necessary relation to the container, filled with white and purple pansies. Or, yellow and green celery tips lining and chic chartreuse bowl?

Such vegetable arrangements center of every table flanked by large green Southern cabbage with adorable rabbits scampering nibbling the leaves. Nests of colored Easter eggs with darling little fluffy chickens tooling the sides and milk glass vases were a delight to the eye. Place cards held favors of small yellow and white marshmallow chickens and rabbits.

A handsome bowl of Easter Lilies marked the Honor table where place cards of large candy rabbits with the colors of the Program Committee and the Presidents of the Clubs sat and presided over by the hostess President, Mrs. J. K. Avent. Centerpieces of Easter lilies and ferns were placed at artistic angles which completed the Easter arrangements and furnished a spirit of loyalty and friendliness to the hostess of all throughout the day.

Mrs. H. W. Baker assisted by Mrs. Ernestine Martin served the luncheon. Young ladies from the High School group served. They were Misses Dorothy Baker, Dorothy Palmer, Pauline Richardson, Bettie Jones, Mary Elizabeth Horton, Gene Thomas, Mallory Chapman, and Betty Esther Edwards.

The luncheon speakers were the presidents or secretaries of the clubs. Each one gave a short summary of the year's work. They were introduced by Mrs. Avent.

Mrs. Sam Simmons, Sr. president of Garden Club, gave the interesting report: "Our motto is to scatter seed of Flowers, Faith and Friendship." Our garden is our escape not from but to reality. While it cannot redeem the world it can positively point the way and direct our thinking along well worn and friendly paths.

As we look back over the past we have as our outstanding program Dr. Floyd Bratley's visit and lecture to us. We are at this time looking forward to the visit of Dr. R. V. Monksmith, Extension Horticulturist, at State College. His lecture will be on planning and care of a garden. He will also touch on plants suitable for the South. We will be allowed to ask questions. This lecture will be on the 3rd. Thursday in May, at the Community House at 3:30 p. m. Everyone is invited.

We are planning the annual Spring Flower Show and Pilgrimage. We sponsored planting of roses on highway terraces and many a bare terrace has been made beautiful by the roses. Holganization. This past year, the clubfication of the plot at the swimming pool by planting Floribunda Polyantha Roses, Spiraea and Crepe Myrtle.

B. & P. W. CLUB

Mrs. A. L. Trotman, President of Business and Professional Woman's Club, spoke briefly concerning this organization's having been added. The beautification room. Financial aid loaned to one girl in Senior Class at High School and throughout the year the club follows the National programs.

The B. and P. W. Club is the only Grenada club federated with a National group.

IRIS CLUB

Mrs. T. B. Revell, Secretary of Iris Club, (Mrs. J. K. Avent is President) spoke on the "Iris" of Grenada groups. They have accomplished a great deal in the way of beautifying sites in and about Grenada.

There are 400 iris plants growing plentifully at the Grenada Hospital. 2,000 iris are growing equally as well at the Grenada Industries, Inc. At Great the landscaping has many shrubs have been planted by the company.

Along the Barwin Hotel and the Dennery Forrest Court, also Spain's filling stations have iris attractively planted by the Iris Club. The negro families along Highway 51 through town have received plants from the club and have planted them with good results.

There are more than 5,000 of the new varieties of iris growing in the gardens of Grenada. Truly Grenada will soon be known as the City of love ly Iris.

Those in membership is restricted to 30 members. Mrs. Wagner, owner of Greenville has invited the club to visit her home at Leland during this month. She plans to transplant many of her iris to Grenada.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Mrs. T. E. Betz, President, spoke for the oldest of all clubs in Grenada, the Civic League. Her splendid report follows:

Our League sponsors the Grenada Rose Room. The register shows as many as twenty-one States having been represented in the month.

The grading leveling and the beautification of the Court on N. Highway 51 at the cemetery has been completed, and the work. The community clubs are also under the supervision of the Civic League.

The Bledsoe point is nearing completion. Since the first of the year we have set out around the beautification of Confederate Park on the square, having outlined the four corners with concrete coping and placing 48 new shrubs. Ninety five crepe myrtle have been planted on South Street west of Main. By fall we hope to have the evergreen between each of the crepe myrtle. In all we have planted one hundred fifty crepe myrtle shrubs this year.

The Hamilton point at Line and Second Street has all new shrubs. Also the Thomas point on Main Street. All money from dues or other sources is used in beautification of the various points and parks in our city. This helping retain the name "City Beautiful" for Grenada.

Mrs. Walter Garner, president of MacDowell Musicale, gave an interesting account of the past year's program. Their outstanding program was presented at Barwin Hotel auditorium this Spring when the entire membership staged one of the most entertaining and splendid musicals of old fashioned music ever given in Grenada. The year's program followed no particular theme however many interesting topics were used for study. These topics were (a) "The Effect of Music on a Nation," (b) "Atmosphere in Music," (c) "Nature in Music," (d) "Pipe Organ and Symphony Orchestra Music," study.

Each year the MacDowell gives an outstanding musical to which the public is invited.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt, Vice-president of the Twentieth Century Club, spoke briefly of the club activities during the past year and stated that the past years program was varied and most interesting. This club is sponsor for the Grenada Public Library, and their contribution this year was a beautiful set of Encyclopedia in eleven volums. These reference books cost $75.00. A handsome table with shelves and a copper plate bearing the name of the donor "The Twentieth Century Club" was presented the library for holding the books attractively. Additional books, valued at $25.00 were presented the library by the club.

The club contributed to the "Bundle to Britain," Mrs. J. K. Avent is president of the club.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

Mrs. C. C. Cathey, president of the Fortnightly Club, spoke of the club's work among the underprivileged children and of their club sponsoring the Milk Fund, whereby all school children receiving inadequate milk at home received it at the schoollunch room. Sixty-three children received milk during the nine months of school.

Outstanding speakers, Dr. McCain, of Jackson, and Mrs. Parkinson, lecturer for the club. These lectures were attended by large gatherings of club members and their friends. They contributed liberally to "Bundle to Britain."

Announcement of a splendid program will be made this month.

Mrs. Avent gave the introductory address of the patriotic program Good Americans, presented by the following Twentieth Century Club members: Mrs. Cowles Horton spoke on Lorenza Dow, Mrs. R. L. Vandiver spoke on Nancy Hanks, Mrs. Giles Patty spoke on Clara Barton, and Mrs. J. L. Cooley spoke about "The Unknown Soldier."

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Hurd Horton was the gracious hostess to the members of her bridge club and several guests on Tuesday afternoon. A variety of lovely Spring flowers added further to the attractiveness of the home on this delightful occasion.

At the close of the enjoyable bridge games a most delicious refreshment of strawberry ice, chicken salad sandwiches and Angelfood cake was served by the hostess to the following members and special guests: Mrs. R. W. Sharp, Mrs. Ernest Morrow, Mrs. H. W. Baker, Mrs. Gene Marders, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. E. R. Proudfit, Mrs. R. B. Townes, Mrs. H. D. Lane, Miss Lida Coffman and Mrs. Lelia Pearson and house guest, Mrs. Erle Johnston.

BUFFET SUPPER AT MISS MULLIN'S HOME

The country home of Miss Cora Mullin, bride-elect of Hector DeWitt Lane, was the scene of a lovely buffet supper last Sunday evening when she entertained the following members of her bridal party: Mrs. Pat Mullin, matron of honor, Miss Jackie Lane, maid of honor, Misses Ann Smallwood, Edith Penn, Ethel Nichols, Anna Rose and Marguerite Finey, all bride's maids.

The hostess received her guests wearing a smart two-piece sport dress of pastel plaids. The Mexican motif was attractively used in the dining room. Mrs. R. W. Mullin assisted her daughter in serving her guests a delicious supper. At the close of the evening Miss Mullin presented each guest with a lovely string of Richelieu pearls which are to be worn by them in the wedding.

VISIT MALMAISON

Mrs. Lelia Pearson planned a trip to Malmaison, the historic home of Chief Greenwood Leflore, in Carroll County on Tuesday, honoring her guest Mrs. Erle Johnston, of Muskogee, Okla. Those to make the trip were Mesdames Pearson, Erle Johnston, John Martin, Ben Brown and O. T. Eddleman.

Miss Mary Douglass Honeycutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt, will arrive Friday from Centre College, Danville, Ky., for Spring holiday visit.

Mrs. Lewis, of Batesville, was the charming guest of Mrs. F. A. Stacy at the Spring luncheon Saturday.

Mr. H. L. Honeycutt and Mr. "Choppy" Andrews spent Tuesday in Tuscaloose, Ala., where Mr. Andrews stood examination for entry into the aviation corps of the U. S. Army.

HONORED AT M. S. C. W.

MISS NANCY NELSON GRANBERRY

Miss Nancy Nelson Granberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Granberry of Grenada, has been repeatedly honored by her fellow students, the most recent honor being elected to first place in the 1941 Hall of Fame at M. S. C. W. President of Student Government, the highest honor on the campus, she has received many other honors too numerous to mention.

Congratulations, Nancy Nelson.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Miss Cora Mullin, bride-elect of Mr. Hector DeWitt Lane, was honored with a personal shower given by Misses Marguerite and Anna Rose Finney at the home of Mrs. Jack Townes. The honoree was attractive in a Spring model of beige and tan with brown and white accessories.

The Easter motif was carried out throughout the evening. Large Easter egg nests filled with assorted eggs and rabbits centered each table. The home was lovely with arrangements of beautiful Spring flowers. Bingo was enjoyed by the guests during the evening. Miss Ann Smallwood, of Jackson, was winner of the high score and was presented a box of "Early American" bath powder. Miss Helen Horton was winner of low score and received an Easter novelty.

Later in the evening the honoree was presented a large Easter basket filled with many lovely gifts. A delicious salad course with Coca-Cola was served to the following guests: the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. R. W. Mullin, Mrs. H. D. Lane, Misses Jackie Lane, Annie Anderson, Joyce Matthews, Louise McCaslin, Helen Horton, Gene Marders, Mary Louise West, Claire Weir, Ruth Sweatland, Edith Penn, Ann Smallwood, and Mrs. Ray Finney.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Mrs. Hayden Biddy, her two sons, Hayden, Jr., and Charles King, also Mrs. Biddy's mother, Mrs. King, were guests on Sunday and Monday in the home of their aunt, Mrs. T. J. Brown. They were enroute to New York City, where their husband and father is Lieutenant Commander of the S. S. Augusta, Flag Ship for the Admiral of the Atlantic Fleet. Lieutenant Commander Biddy has many friends here who remember him most pleasantly. He attended high school here while living with his aunt, Mrs. Brown. His home was at Cascilla.

The Biddy family has been stationed in China the past three years; Lieutenant Commander Biddy is now on the high seas enroute to New York Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mohead, of Carrollton, and Mrs. Lynn Parker, of Tupelo, were recent guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hall.

"Bubber" York, William Winter, and Frank Horton, of Ole Miss, are spending Spring holidays at home.

Miss Mamie Loyd Catledge, of Starkville, was the attractive guest of Miss Bernice Jones this week. She returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. Earl Ford, Supt. of nurses at Grenada Hospital, and Miss Cook, her assistant spent Sunday through Tuesday in Jackson, where Miss Cook took the state board examination for nurses.

Mrs. A. D. Caulfield and little granddaughter, Betty Carter, also Miss Bessie Leland, Miss Alice Leland, and Miss Hattie May Ledbetter, of Water Valley, were guests of Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ethel George Nichols, who was at home for the week-end from her studies at Ole Miss, accompanied her mother, Mrs. J. J. Nichols, to Hattiesburg, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kruger and new-born son. They were in Hattiesburg Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Pat Easterling left Tuesday afternoon for her home at Excellsior Springs, Mo., after a delightful visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Grant.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Eldridge Parks was a charming hostess to club members Friday of last week, when two tables of bridge players, all members of the club, met for the regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Park's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sharp. Lovely Spring blossoms lent their beauty to this small, tho charming social event. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Rob Brown was again winner of high score and she received a "Dorothy Gray" makeup set as prize.

Delicious sandwiches and cake were served with iced Coca Cola in the late afternoon.

Mrs. Rick Gilliam and little daughter, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mrs. Gilliam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Todd.

Mrs. Glen Thomason had as her guests the past week-end her three sisters, Mrs. Joe E. Veazey, of Senatobia, Mrs. Horace H. Hicks, of San Antonio, Texas, and Miss Smith, of Memphis. Mesdames Veazey and Hicks attended the Spring Luncheon.

Superintendent of Education, Sam J. Simmons, Jr., spent one day last week in Oxford attending a meeting of county superintendents.

CARD OF THANKS

The helpful words of consolation, the beautiful flowers from our friends here in this community and from his shipmates on the U. S. S. VIXEN, the courtesies that we, who were strangers in Portsmouth, received from officers and men of U. S. Navy, the financial assistance freely and without solicitation that we received, all of these and many other kind things done and said have helped to assuage our grief over the untimely death of our dear son, Horace, Jr., Fireman 1st Class U. S. Navy. May God bless all of you.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tilghman and Family.

MT. NEBO NEWS

Dr. Siler of Calhoun City, pastor of Shiloh Baptist church, on Sunday at 3 p. m. preached to a good sized audience.

Mrs. James Dew of Indianola, visited old friends here Monday.

Our old chum and standby, Luke Doe, says he is in such good health he can find his way into the dog house the darkest night without a light and that it is sound proof. Oh, he hum.

Coleman Cohen has a new tuner and radio, but says it makes him so dizzy to hear a certain dictator's name called he can hardly suppress his rage.

Otylie Clarke very much personally resembles a well known designer but is headed for Nashville and a fat Federal Job.

A good truthful man from Yocona county was here today and says the dam is pretty damn sure to go in spite of hades and high water. So here are praying for it and composing it with most bitter oaths. We think at this time we need a military government at Grenada and Flood Stage is more than any dam.

Nebo is ready and anxious to do its part in national defense. If someone will kindly tell us what to do, we will do anything in reason from planting more spinach and cucumbers to willfully tearing our hair and frantically waving flags.

GORE SPRINGS NEWS

On April 18th the Seniors will present the play "Meet the Folks." Everybody is cordially invited to attend. It is crammed full of fun.

Mrs. Earl Thorpe, spent last week in the city of Gaaysport with her sister, Mrs. Jesse Haven.

Mr. Whiford Trussell spent at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ella Trussell Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, of Grenada, spent Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paxton Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Trussell's son and mother, Mrs. Alice Trussell and Homer Dale, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Brien, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trussell, of Itta Bena.

Still Sound Asleep

America facing the possibility of annihilation, is more concerned about the division of the seven billions war booty than it is with preparation.

True it is that some of the leaders are thinking in terms of defense, but many of them, both in and out of Congress, are thinking more of "what is MY community going to get from the seven billions."

True it is that some of the parents of boys in the armed forces are concerned, but even many of them think of this gigantic preparedness program as a grand lark for their sons. The average man on the street who has no son in the armed forces seems utterly indifferent to the terrible consequences of the defeat of the fighting democracies. So far as he is concerned, the fight might be between the inhabitants of Mars and the inhabitants of Neptune.

The indifference of the people is bad enough for many of the people have not sensed the dire consequences of the defeat of the democracies. The fact that a relatively few people in our country are permitted to lay down their tools with impunity (and with no deterring influence from the federal government) and thwart the national effort is far worse. These men who are laying down their tools draw all the way from seven to fifteen dollars a day, and are striking for more. What would happen to the dollar-a-day soldier if he layed down his gun and said, "Hell, I am not getting enough. I want ten dollars a day?" He would be sent to Fort Leavenworth; or, if he did this in war time, would be shot.

The Anglo-Allies, with the wholehearted assistance contemplated by the Land-Lease Bill and other helpful legislation, can win this war. But if America "lays down" after pledging itself to the Anglo-Allies and fails to supply with guns, ships and ammunition those who are fighting, it is not beyond the realm of possibility that the Anglo-Allies will make the best deal possible with the Axis nations and leave America facing Hitler and his rapacious hordes alone. What would happen then? Any guess is as good as another.

This war is no play matter for the United States. Had we pursued a course of industrial mobility; had we kept every gun, every cartridge, every ship and every other implement of defense at home; and had we conducted our business with ALL nations upon a cash and carry basis, we would be in far better shape than we are now. This course, however, was not the course that our leaders took. They took the "all out" course toward help for the Anglo-Allies. We are just as much in the war as had Congress officially declared war. We have no alternative now but to pursue THAT course. To pursue that course half-heartedly, or to slacken our efforts toward production of essential material and transporting it overseas, and the training of men in ever increasing numbers is but inviting disaster of unheard of magnitude.

Folks here in Grenada, just like most folks every where in this nation, read of the sinking of millions of tons of shipping, destruction of whole sections of European cities, the hunger and even starvation of millions of people in the occupied territories, the death of thousands of soldiers; these folks read by saying "Ain't it bad" and turn to the comics (that is if they do not turn to the comics first.

Strikes in essential industries are absolutely paralyzing our war efforts. It does not require a strike through the entire airplane production industry to paralyze airplane production. A strike in a relatively small factory which produces the propellers would eventually stop production of planes; a strike in the steel or aluminum industry would finally stop plane production; a strike of miners would eventually stop EVERY wheel.

While we are just a brown-country editor who has been nowhere and seen nothing, we believe that the federal government should step into the picture and do whatever is necessary, even to commandeering the plants and drafting the workmen to insure an uninterrupted flow of munitions. We can see no justice in the government picking up some poor, ignorant negro man (who would be just as well off under Hitler as he is under Roosevelt having nothing under either), sending him to war, and paying him six bits a day and board; while at the same time, the same all-powerful central government will permit greedy workmen, already drawing fabulous pay, to lay down their tools and withhold from that poor, ignorant negro the gun, the ammunition, the bayonet and the other things that he needs to earn HIS six bits a day and board.

The liberty of action and speech that we so freely enjoy was not a gift of God, nor is this liberty of action and speech necessarily permanent. This liberty of action and speech came through the spilling of the blood of our forebathers, and, if preserved at all, it must be preserved by the spilling of blood. We can PRESERVE this liberty of action and of speech now by instituted help to the Anglo-Allies and by the spilling of THEIR blood; but, unless we get busy and speed up production and transportation of vital materials to the Anglo-Allies, we are likely to LOSE our freedom of action and of speech, even after spilling OUR blood in prodigious quantities. Which shall it be?

Are the 128,000,000 average Americans to RULE this country, or are the 2,000,000 strikers to RUIN it? Which shall it be?

Are our Congressmen going to sit there and let a handfull of greedy workers plunge this nation into chaos, or are they going to exercise the same right of drafting upon strikers as they did upon your son and the same right of commandeering (sometimes called the right of eminent domain) upon the factories as they, through their highway engineers, exercised upon your favorite cow pasture? Which shall it be?

Are we to help defeat Hitlerism by MATERIALS furnished the Anglo-Allies, or are we going to wait and TRY to defeat him with the BLOOD of our sons. Which shall it be?

To these questions we must answer and that speedily.

"Golgotha"

The picture haunts you.

It was at Golgotha—in the Place of a Skull.

The Tragedy of the World was drawing to a close. The nails, the thorns, the spear, the reed, had one by one entered poignantly into the mother's heart. And then the "Lama sabachthani" cry pierced the air, and all was still.

But over in the temple the veil was rent in twain, and the earth rocked with a mighty stress.

What saw you, O Mater Dolorosa, kneeling on the ground, your streaming eyes lifted to where that central cross made a blacker line against the darkening sky?

Your Son was there, the supreme sacrifice for the sins of the world. You saw Him hanging on the cross, the human part of Him abject in death; and the mother-heart of you broke with its anguish.

What saw you, O Mater Dolorosa, kneeling on the rough ground, your streaming eyes lifted to where that central cross made a blacker line against the darkening sky?

You saw the dawn of a new day of redemption, the whitening light of a Liberty that was to cure the world of its canker of sin; and you know that the immolation of your Son had wrought the miracle of regeneration, and lifted the universe out of the muck of despair to the heights where shine the stars of peace.

And the hope of you went upward, and the soul of you was comforted, O Mater Dolorosa, O Mother of Man!

Again, in the significance, is it Golgotha, the Place of a Skull.

There are no crosses, but the sacrifices are many. The nails have been driven into many hands, the thorns pressed hard on many brows. For the war-god is slowly counting out his toll of fighting men and the banners are beckoning to the field.

What see you, O Matres Dolorosa, looking away to the battle front? Your sons fighting with their brothers where wounds are many and death may come?

Yes; but what see you above the battle line, high up against the unfurling sky.

A light? Yes, verily, the same light of Liberty that Mary saw filling the crucifixion sky with a radiance unspeakable. It is to keep that light from going out in despotism, to keep it in the lives and souls of men, to keep it flaming forever on the ramparts of the world that all who walk the paths of life may see the way, not grope in darkness. It is for this same light of Freedom that glimmered over the chaos of creation and shone in splendor over the Crucifixion Cross, for this light in the days to come, O Matres Dolorosae—O many mothers of many men!

Wipe away your tears and bind your aching hearts, and stand, dry-eyed, at the nation's threshold for their coming again. And know this, that if they come, or if they come not, they have read the clear message of redemption, and some man's life must ever pay the price of liberty.

Sustained Enthusiasm Necessary

Grenada businessmen formulate some plan for expansion of Grenada and the betterment of Grenada, hold two or three enthusiastic meetings—and promptly forget it. What has happened to the Food Stamp Plan for which we people here were so wrought up just a month or so ago? What became of the army camp for whose establishment here Grenada sent a fine representative to Washington and in the interest of which camp several enthusiastic meetings were held? Where have these plans gone?

The truth of the matter is that each individual business man has his own problems which require all his time and he quickly loses his enthusiasm, for he has to fight back the particular pack of wolves that dog his own heels. He has his own business to look after.

It requires constant, sustained and unceasing work to get anything like this done (as it takes constant, sustained and unceasing work for the individual to get things done in HIS OWN business). Community projects fail because of lack of an individual to work ceaselessly, yet intelligently toward a definite objective.

We sincerely hope that the Chamber of Commerce recently organized will not fail, but it will fail unless sustained support is given the individual upon whose shoulders the work will fall.

Food Stamp Plan

Orange and blue food stamps to the value of nearly $12,000 were placed into the hands of Pontotoc county residents the first day the food stamp plan began operating in our neighboring county. Between $5000 and $10,000 monthly increase in money spent for food and increased food for some 2000 families of Pontotoc county is estimated as the beneficial result that county is beginning to enjoy.

Unquestionably the food stamp plan has many advantages over the present commodity distribution as practiced in this county. And most certainly few counties in the state are in need of a better plan quite so much as our own which has suffered from poor crop yields the past three years.

Realizing this, our people are not likely to remain disinterested and inactive while other counties get the benefit of the most modern and best adapted food distribution method yet adopted by the government.

We do now what we may be compelled to do in order to obtain the cooperation of the "powers that be" in order to get the plan started in Grenada but we are well aware that we cannot afford to do anything less. If it is some "hell-raising" as one close observer on the outside intimated, then let's get started on a grand srale.

Congratulations, Mary

Getting into the boat with the President and the other big bugs, let us offer sincere congratulations to Mary Cain upon the fifth anniversary of her very interesting weekly newspaper, The Summit Sun, which event was celebrated last week with a four-section issue, filled with interesting reading matter and profitable advertisements of The Sun. May the Sun continue to live and prosper, and may its pretty and talented editor continue to hoist her beauty, charm and writing ability.

Me and De GCW.

To hell with all politicians. It looks like we do better in every way by not wasting our time fooling with them.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

We have ships of the desert, ships that pass in the night and ships at sea, but the Shipp that we hereby honor is J. R. Shipp, a brand new subscriber.

LOST: all the Cunninghams.

We need some job work this weekend to keep Horn and Greenfield out of the devil's workshop as we have about finished all we have on the hook.

Our good friend and loyal subscriber, Mrs. Gladys Staten of the free city of Oxberry, remembered us with a timely renewal.

If we have to fight Hitler alone, it will be our own damn fault. At this time, grasping strikers are gumming up the works mighty badly.

We are acquainted with the white feather of defeat, the white flag of surrender and many other kinds of white, both material and spiritual, but we are more concerned now with Sidney D. White of Adams Street, who has cast his lot with us.

Wonder how Brother J. M. Pierce is getting along?

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Grenada County School Board on April 18, 1941 for the purpose of re-districting such common school territory as is presented to the School Board, laying off school routes, and passing on requirements for transportation bidders.

Respectfully submitted,

We must help the Anglo-Allies with every possible thing, or fight Hitler alone. There is no other alternative. Which shall it be?

Many people think the present war is a comic opera war like the war with Spain or the Boxer outbreak. They are wrong. This is a man's size war.

John P. White with the bombing outfit at MacDill Field, Florida, is not only in the Recruit Detachment of the U. S. Army but also in the recruit, or rookie class on the GCW mailing list. Welcome, soldier.

Damn this backspace on the typewriter! Jake Kettle forgot to fix it, but he did not forget to renew his subscription, so we forgive him.

Mrs. Rose is still figuring on visiting her folks down in Little Texas sometime soon.

They say that Cousin Tom Spears of Beat Three is cleaning up a fine new ground. That's just heasay.

Listen: readers: if a neighbor comes to you and says, "I didn't get my GCW today. May I borow your," tell him, "whthehell didn't on pay your subscription like I did?"

Between the cocktail and main course, Carolyn Whitaker gave her version of "Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline?" James Thomas played "Prelude in C Sharp minor" by Rachmaninoff. The audience was so enthusiastic over James' playing that he was called back to play several more pieces. Miss Wilson also entertained by playing some of the most popular songs of the day.

At the close of the meal Benton introduced Louise Avent who gave an interesting talk on Washington. Leon Provine gave a talk on Jefferson. Mr. Rundle gave a very inspiring talk which impressed every student and teacher listener in the hall. His subject was "The Ship of State." At the close of the program Thomas Bell expressed to the Juniors in behalf of the Seniors thanks for the lovely party that was given. Floyd Theisman led in singing "America."

The hall was beautifully decorated in our national colors, red, white, and blue. On each of the ten tables, there was a beautiful vase of Spring flowers.

This party was acclaimed a big success. To Miss Shows and Miss Stevenson, sponsors of the Junior Class goes most of the credit.

Tinsley Thrower's visitor served to make Anne's heart flutter. From what we've heard his name is Malcomb.

Verna Leggett just can't understand why E. L. got mad at her. Verna ought to know true loves never run smooth.

Bernice Jones has been suffering here lately with heart trouble. Broken heart trouble.

"Sucker" Keeton.

Nellie Joiner and Robert Trussell are the newest romance in G. H. S. It really must be serious as he was seen with her Thursday and Friday nights.

Rogers and Bebe Cullen.

Girl Reserves: Pay your dues!

To Mary Lou's dismay, Emmett wears loud socks to keep his feet from going to sleep.

Some one remarks that the table at which Pauline was hostess was more like a new year's party rather than a patriotic affair.

"Poor" Keeton had been burying his trouble by dating Margaret Green. She really is cute enough to make any one's heart jump, but we are still betting on Louise.

Sax Weir and Martha Johnsey are getting along fine. He comes for her each noon to take her home.

The happiest girl in G. H. S. last week and the saddest girl this week is Billie Guy. It was because Warmack was here last week and had gone this week.

Congratulations to the Sophomores on their splendid edition of the Bulldog. It put some of the former editions of the Bulldog in the shade.

Several students who played "hooky" from school were promptly caught up with and recived their share of punishment. None of them seem to regret their punishment.

Preliminaries were held in the auditorium Friday afternoon for the expression and declamation contest and to determine the G. H. S. representative at the District Meet to be held here Friday night. Laverne Wilson won over Margaret Stanley and Lucy Moss in expression. Thomas Bell will be the school declamation contestant, having won over John Keeton, Benton Keeton, Rogers Pierpants and Ed McCormick. We wish Laverne and Thomas the best of luck.

Semi-Final tennis matches were held at Winona Saturday morning. The three schools represented there were Winona, Duck Hill, and Grenada. The winners there are to play the winners of the Semi-Final contest held in another part of this region. Will Horton and Bennie Cohen were G. H. S. representatives in boys doubles. These boys won over Winona boys but were defeated by Duck Hill. James Thomas lost 12 singles to one of Winona's players. In the presence of Camilla Smith, Mary Lou Cullen played girls singles. Camilla, who won district girls singles last year, couldn't be a contestant this year on account of illness. Mary Lou showed her good sportsmanship by taking Camilla's place at the last minute. Carolyn Whitaker and Louise Avent won at this meet in girls' doubles. Final will be held Tuesday, April 8. Louise and Carolyn will be the only G. H. S. representatives there.

"Successful" Townsend.

CHAPEL

After the group's singing under the direction of Miss Donaldson, Mr. Rundle read the scripture and introduced Miss Erikson, who made a speech urging the students to attend the picture show of the Life of Christ, which was shown Saturday. Bobby Weir gave his speech which he is to use in the State-Wide American Legion declamation contest. The glee club under the direction of Miss Donaldson sang, "I Hear a Forest Praying," which is their contest piece. Chapel was dismissed and then everyone was called back to study hall so Mr. Rundle could award the debating squad gold medals.

Just in case that you don't know:

Dorothy Tallent went to the banquet with Billy Horton.

Camilla went with Thomas Bell.

Louise Avent with Leon Provine.

"Ed" Smith went with Hazel Turner.

"Katy" went with Tommie.

Frances went with Monty.

John Prather was stag with Agnes Crosswaite.

Kathleen Nail had a date with that new little redhaired senior.

Audry Moss was with James Goodwin.

Jackie and Benton, Grace and Bill, and John and Betty seemed to have

ENTERED CAMP BLANDING DECEMBER 23RD

It was very near Christmas when this regiment pulled into Camp Blanding. Well can we remember that day rain was falling, adding to the gloom that was creeping into all of our minds. Frankly, most of us thought this was the dirtiest place to put a camp we had ever seen. Torn up earth was everywhere, the slop of unfinished construction work was to be seen everywhere, the dirty sand created a distasteful atmosphere, and to make everything twice as bad as it was, we were 800 miles from home and weren't so sure we wanted to be in Florida at all.

Our work has borne fruit. The camp is clean and tidy and buildings have been painted and equipped with everything necessary for our use. There can be found most anything inside of the gates that could be found in a city of 20000 population. It is becoming a rather pleasant home for most of us. All in all the army has treated us pretty good and we are enjoying our new surroundings more and more as the days go by.

I am sure that I express the sentiment of the entire battery when I say that we are very very sorry to hear of the death of Jasper Fielder, brother of Private William Fielder of this battery. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

The land around this camp is so poor that two Irishmen with a barrel of liquor could not raise a disturbance, we even have to fertilize the water for the fish to live in it.

Private L. R. Thomas wants a pin tail back in Grenada, for he is lonesome down here.

Sgt. Greenlee is so proud of his new Campaign hat that the boys have to use force to keep him from sleeping in it.

Private Culley has been drilling pretty hard and taking typhoid shots so he layed up on his "week-end" this last week-end.

Cook Cannon was making some soup last week and used a tooth brush in his mouth. He asked Private Proctor if he was going to eat with them. Proctor said, "It's too late to how the drop fall."

I guess Sgt. Bill Gilstrap is right since Pvt. Thomas "Doc" Hardy has at last worn his broom handle out on him.

Of all things! Private Trey "Talking Hank" was taking a shower last while doing same felt of his legs and said, "You know I've missed hound."

Private Lewis Coleman is the last time Sergeant this week but hopes he will be reduced to the grade of a private by next week.

Dear Mr. Will Bryant Thomas agrees with you when you say, "Aint they sweet."

Lieutenant J. M. McCorkle took leave to visit friends in Grenada and to visit his wife in New Orleans, last Saturday. It is generally understood that this battery will either lose him or Captain Shaw, one of them will be put on the 1st Battalion Staff. We consider it a great loss to lose either of them and hope there will be some way to keep them both in the battery.

Captain Shaw returned from Fort Sill, Oklahoma this week-end after being in school there for three months. He must have been around quite a humorous bunch of fellows for he is just as full of new jokes as a Jewish goose is full of corn.

* * *

Some thirty thousand soldiers massed on the camp parade-grounds here Sunday. Those that had portable radios heard what the speakers said otherwise they will have to read the papers and find out what it was all about.

* * *

Sgt. Ming is in charge of training the Selectees and is doing a durn good job of teaching close order drill to the new men. He calls them his little chickens and gets as mad as a setting hen if anyone says anything critical about their mistakes.

The world will be safe for a few more days since Tarzan is safe and "Ol Ol" Roane is out of the Hospital.

The 56th Brigade, composed of the 114th, 116th and 117th Field Artillery Regiments are leaving camp early Monday morning for a parade in Orlando, Fla. When one realizes the destructive firing power of a brigade of field artillery it makes you shudder to think that an enemy has the same type of guns to turn loose on you.

You might be interested in knowing the mission of the Field Artillery. The mission of the Field Artillery is to assist the other arms, especially the Infantry and the Cavalry, in combat by fire power. The 155 m/m Howitzers perform three duties. Neutralize the enemy counter battery or lessen enemy fire and interdiction or forbidding the use of certain roads to the enemy thru threat of casualties.

* * *

This battery is rather proud of the fact that it has the largest number of men at church each Sunday. Chaplain Wells offered a little prize for the battery that had the largest number of men at church last Sunday. Since different batteries in the regiment have a different number of men he gave the prize to the battery with the largest percent present. The ten pounds of candy was a real treat.

and evil have been with us in all civilizations Chinese, Babylonian, Egyptian, Greek, Roman and Anglo-Saxon alike.

Our present machine age has placed in the hands of the unscrupulous and ruthless predatory powers, instruments which man has not yet learned to control. In order to preclude the utter destruction of our cherished civilization, we are now forced to take time to perform our most reluctantly attempted function that of THINKING. And to put thinking into ACTION.

Our optimism for the future is based upon considerations that are obvious to all who care to see and with ears to hear. It is not founded upon Britain's victories on land, sea and in the air. They were taken for granted. This optimism is based upon what has taken place in millions of American minds. For the first time there is a dawning realization of what the British Empire means to the civilization in this changing world.

Not even the cruel consequences of the great depression were sufficiently terrible as to teach the American people certain spiritual, social and economic lessons which must be learned and put into effect before a sound prosperity can prevail in this fair land once more. And nothing short of the fear of actual invasion by the enemy with superior naval, military and aerial armament could have brought home to the American people the stark realization of the interdependence of all of the English speaking nations and their mutual responsibility for the maintenance of their hard won liberties.

Had there been a naval and military alliance existing between Uncle Sam and John Bull there would be no world war raging today. Our united naval, military, aerial, financial, industrial and territorial strength is so formidable as a power that no combination of nations would dare to challenge such a "just combination." In the modern world it is virtually impossible for an industrial nation to live normally without trade relations with the English speaking world. Germany, Italy and Japan have given signal evidence of this truth.

This writer has worked all over the British Empire and in all parts of the United States. In his humble opinion this present war is no futile effort, designed to end the chaos which attended the termination of the last world struggle. This war must bring into existence a new AAA an Anglo-American Alliance. A new triple A, with what in football parlance is called a triple threat, a navy, army and air force capable of maintaining law and order in this tired old universe. This will prevent the United States and the Empire from being plunged into an armed camp by every new generation of Germans. A definite and positive alliance between the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack will be an insuperable obstacle in the path of all future aspirants to world domination. This old world is sorely in need of a big brother, with a big stick. Two big brothers, with two big sticks, could do wonders with the intractable bad boys of the future.

The mind of man moves with a painfully slow tempo. In times of peace, preoccupation with pressing home affairs precludes much progress in international relations. But the threatened destruction of the home of the race, and the possible invasion of the North American continent, plus the tremendous drain on our material assets, its potential involvement of American young men, disruption of our national and foreign commerce, the prospect of inevitable oppressive taxation—all of these, and many other compelling considerations must bring Uncle Sam and John Bull to their senses.

The present disastrous war is the cruel instrument which will forge, under the pressure of dire necessity, the bonds which will reunite all of the English speaking peoples of the world. United, they are a formidable array of power. They desire to live, and let live. They are taking an increasingly liberal view of the dignity of man. They realize that in the modern machine age more liberty of political action is not sufficient to maintain life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—that equality of economic opportunity is equally as essential as equality before the law.

If the shedding of the blood of the Empire's soldiers, sailors, pilots, and marines will contribute to the formation of an Anglo-American Alliance, they may pass happily to their reward conscious that their sacrifice has been a constructive influence in the world, and not in vain, as were the efforts of the veterans who fought the first world war. No price is too great to realize that great objective, which leaves the Empire intact at the conclusion of the present war.

The Anglo-Saxon race has not yet reached the zenith of it's powers. It has responsibilities to the world, and services to perform in the interests of civilization, which it has not yet performed. But in the interests of self-preservation, and in the preservation of any ordered civilization in the world at large, it must act in unity. The present transformation of American thought is a veritable rainbow of hope for the world—and for none more than for the people of Italy and Japan, and the too easily misguided German nation.

With all of its horror, ruthlessness, destructiveness and criminality, this war gives every promise of materializing the sole agency which would have the power necessary to guarantee to posterity that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth—an Anglo-American Alliance.

This is our Easter message to our friends. And we wish you, from cheerful Arkansas, a bright and happy Easter.

Herbert B. Allen.

Aint they sweet.

Constable Mahan, of Dave Williams' district has picked up a good deal since he had his teeth pulled. He was a recent visitor to the county capital.

Ben Conner, a Grenada county boy, has been in the Vets Hospital in Memphis for many, many months having a very serious burn cursd. He stayed months in bed, then other months in a wheel chair, how he has been promoted to crutches. Ere long, he will be OK, we are sure.

It looks like Eddie Norid, owner and manager of the Automotive Parts Company, is getting along well with his business. He has established a place for himself both in the business and social community.

Tinsley Thrower, Preacher Thrower's biggest boy, spent Sunday in Grenada.

Mr. W. K. Huffington and several other occupants of his car enjoyed a visit to the model farm and dairy barn of Frank Kraft Sunday.

Horn is still fattening.

If you have to borrow a neighbor's paper this week, it is likely that you got cut off for non-payment of dues. We cut off about 60 this week.

An Pressgrove, of Jefferson Barracks, Mo., spent three days at home last week. He will soon leave for Colorado or California, or that's what he thinks.

We hear that Uncle Nan is back home from the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, much improved.

It must be grand to be a preacher.

However, we added several, among them being Cowbuyer Dick Latham, sage of Beat Five, who is taking the GCW for six months.

Captain, soon-to-be Major Jim Shaw, having successfully completed his course at the School of Fire at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and after spending a short vacation here, returned to Camp Blanding Friday.

The old lady certainly did get out a good paper last week.

Me and the GCW.

Miss Louise Lee, one of our favorite waitress at Belmont, and Mrs. Thelma Harris made a trip to Memphis Saturday. Miss Sitt Hitt pinch hit for Louise.

Dr. Hill misses Francis, but seems to be standing it with commendable Christian fortitude.

After about a month, we finally secured the address of Sgt. G. Burt's wife, and now are sending her the GCW. It was not our fault, Mrs. Burt.

It looks like we have done better in every way since we quit fooling with politicians.

Editor-mayor-comedian Jimmie Arrington, of Collins, visited us Friday. As he says, aint he a mess?

I spent last week in the Vets Hospital in Memphis, but had to return on account of the very serious illness of Mabel's oldest sister, Mrs. Mary Glenn, who makes her home with us.

Two young couples subscribed at the same time, but asked that their names be withheld. Whatthehell are we to write about if we cannot mention the names of new subscribers?

It is a damn shame how strikers are messing up the detail. They should be drafted and made to work for a dollar a day plus board and clothes, like our boys have to work.

Hats off to the state patrol. These boys are doing a fine job of making driving on the highways more safe.

Homer Williams baited his in-law, H. D. Bowers, with a year's subscription. Now this Hattiesburg millionaire motion picture magnate is paying his own way for another year.

Homer Williams, while we think of it, got over having that grandbaby and went off last week-end on a protracted fishing trip.

Visual evidence indicates that the stork has not nearly completed his Spring business in Grenada.

What's happened to the Food Stamp Plan and to the army camp. Everyone was temporarily enthused about each of these things, then were forced back to their own knitting. Therein lies the necessity for an active C. of C. with an aggressive, intelligent secretary.

Squire Boushe made a taxi trip recently.

Dear Whyte, Jr.: I received your letter and have added the new subscribers and have marked up those you mentioned as having paid.

dere peat la groun' with me brisco an mi pery and me ray an mi pin on yore hip yud better do something.

My guess is that nothing will come to the present power controversy. What's your guess?

As far as I am concerned, I do not know anything about the power question, tho I at one time thought I did. It is too deep and too technical for me.

Bud Andrews says he is tired of people bringing guns on the Bledsoe place and is going to set the law on future offenders.

Spurgeon Burke has gone to trapping again, using copies of the GCW for bait. He caught Tillman Schmitz the other day. This worthy man lives and abides and has his being at or near Mt. Nebo.

Grandpaw Fulton McRee must be busy playing with his new grandchild as he has not been to town since the baby came.

Wonder what Everett Cox is doing these days? Also Frank Romberger?

WGRM has got into big time now. We note that many of the national radio releases come in over this neighbor station. It is a great pity that Grenada could not have kept the station here.

While on a visit to relatives in Grenada, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Bowen, recently at Jayerysville, renewed their sacred allegiance with the GCW. Welcome back home.

Ain't they sweet.

A big concerted effort properly directed toward definite objectives. Greeds has go far in progress.

We started to say Pay Your Subscription Slat we have cut off nearly all who have been notified, and have not paid.

Aint Uncle Sam grand. He taketh and he giveth away. We got a soil check Monday, and then paid out about the same amount to him in Social Security.

Speaking of Bud Andrews, he was credited with four bits this week. That kept the wolf away another thirty minutes.

Speaking of Social Security, it cost us plenty of money last Fall to find out that every employer, even with but one employee, must pay Social Security. This information, which cost us about $10.00, is just one to our readers free.

Star Route 2 bundle is a little heavier now that Mrs. A. C. Turner, mother of one of the home company boys, gets the GCW.

Roscoe Folwer will have to handle a new paper this week, that of L. C. Caffey, of Sweatman. His son in Camp Blanding, sent the paper to papa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stevens, of Lubbock, Texas, visited Duck Hill during the week, seeking and seeing old friends of his father, the late "Billie" Stevens, who formerly lived here and counted his friends by all that knew him. He was also trying to learn more of his fathers people.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Kynard and baby, who have been visting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, have returned to their home in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Myrtle James, of Memphis, was in Duck Hill for the week-end seeing friends and relatives.

The G. T. Gillespie family, of Jackson, made a short visit here during the week.

Margaret Ann McCarty, of Collins, accompanied her father, Mr. H. F. McCarty and grandfather, Mr. F. L. Crump as far as Duck Hill and spent the day with us while they were looking after farming interest at Holcomb and Grenada. She thought it great to see her picture in the Grenada County Weekly.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Norwood got the car started Saturday afternoon and got off to Winona for a short stay.

Accompanied our brother, Rev. G. S. Sledge to Grenada Sunday evening and heard a splendid message delivered by the Pastor, Rev. T. B. Thrower at the Methodist church.

The Missionary Society of Christian Service met at the Library Monday afternoon for a business meeting. The new books "Methodism's World Mission" look as if they will make a most interesting study.

ATTEND JAYCEE RALLY IN GREENWOOD

Messrs. Byron Hunter, Mackie White and Joe B. Williams, Jr., of the local Jaycees attended a barbecue and rally of North Mississippi Jaycees in Greenwood Sunday.

The State Convention of the Jaycees is to be held in Greenville on April 18, 19 and 20, and a wonderful program, from soup to nuts, is planned. A large delegation from Grenada headed by the local president, David Dubard, is expected to attend this meeting.

HOME FROM CAMP BLANDING

Eight enlisted men of the "home" company are back home on a six-days leave. Their names follow: Roger and William Bell, Rupert Gallagher, Jack Gant, Troy Hankins, Spencer Hitt, James Houston and Gene McPhaill. 1st Lieut. McCormick spent the first of his vacation with his wife in New Orleans, but is expected here almost any time now.

All the boys look fat and fine.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ford are deeply concerned about Mr. Ford, who suffered a heart attack on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Ford is Supt. of Nurses at Grenada Hospital. Mr. Ford is at the hospital here.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL DRIVE FOR BOY SCOUTS ON 15TH

Grenada people who have always responded well to drives for funds for Boy Scouts will have an opportunity next Tuesday, April 15 to contribute to the quota of about $800 for this community.

A supper for those who will participate in the one-day drive will be held at the community house Monday night.

Bill Fredric is Scout Master and with Pete Woods and Burbell Walker as assistants. C. R. Boone, Jr., is Cub Master. C. V. McKell is finance chairman, John Rundle is District Chairman. Peyton S. Irby is district vice president.

People of Grenada recognize the wonderful work among among boys — the men of tomorrow — that is being done by the Boy Scout organization, and always willingly invest generously in the future men of the community.
